

As part of the statewide 2022-23 North Carolina Early Childhood Workforce Study with funding from the NC Department of Health and Human Services, data was collected from Montgomery County. This report summarizes key findings in which directors, teachers, and assistant teachers participated from Montgomery County. Additional findings from family child care (FCC) providers in rural counties are also presented. In Montgomery County, all of licensed centers serving children from birth to five years of age were surveyed. Surveys were returned from 64% of directors (n=7) and 47% of teachers and assistant teachers in those programs. (A total of 25 surveys were returned from the teaching staff.) Detailed information about survey methods and definitions of key terms can be found in the appendix to the 2022-23 statewide report. Totals may not equal one hundred percent due to rounding. A substantially similar county level study was conducted in 2019, just prior to the COVID-19 pandemic, and can be found at www.childcareservices.org for further comparison data.
